About us

Sydney Northwest Chinese School (SNWCS) is a non-profit, non-political and non-religious community language school approved by DoE. Our main goal is to teach, promote, and ultimately celebrate, the Chinese language.

After School Chinese program on Wednesday

SNWCS will be offering after School Chinese program at Beaumont Hills Public School (BHPS). We have qualified teachers and the program is available to students at BHPS each Wednesday 3-5.30pm. Students will be grouped according to their language background in native or non-native Chinese speaker class. Our lessons will be focusing on listening, reading, writing and speaking skills in Mandarin. We use thematic learning material to teach vocabulary and our students will learn practical vocabulary in sentences. Our program also includes a range of fun cultural topics

After School Art Class on Friday

SNWCS art program is designed to introduce our students to a variety of different techniques and mediums in the art of drawing, sketches, watercolors and craft. By promoting each student's technical skill growth alongside their creative thinking process, we aim to build upon the artistic growth of the student's observations and expression of their inner and outer worlds.
